Opportunities for the marine sector

Earlier this month, CS Rio de Janeiro delivered a webinar to 22 members of the National Marine Manufacturers Association (NMMA) on current tender opportunities in the marine sector, the registration process for tenders, benefits available to suppliers for the Rio 2016 games, and the many ways CS Brazil can assist U.S. bidders. The webinar was hosted by the NMMA and successfully promoted via Twitter social media by ITA headquarters colleagues.

After the webinar, the Rio 2016 Organizing Committee contacted CS Rio to confirm that they will soon start the bid process for the purchase or rental of boats, as well as look for sponsorship opportunities of boats and large motor boats .

Rio 2016 announces ticket prices

We are still 567 days away from the Rio 2016 Olympic Games, but for those want to buy tickets, the race began last Thursday, January 15th: 7.5 million tickets for the Olympic Games, for more than 700 sport sessions and 1.8 million tickets for the Paralympics.

The Rio 2016 Organising Committee is expecting to receive more than eight million online requests through the early registration program launched last week by the Public Olympic Authority (APO), responsible for the coordination and organization of the Olympic Games between the federal, state and municipal entities involved in the games.

The first step of the process is via Internet. Interested people should make a registration on the official website of the Games (<http://www.rio2016.com/en/get-involved/tickets>) and choose which modalities they seek to buy tickets. In March 2015, draws will be made to define who will be entitled to purchase the tickets. Online sales, considered the second phase, will begin in October 2015 and sales at the box office, the third and final stage, will begin in June 2016.

By submitting your personal data on the website, you will get updates on the ticket registration program and will know in advance the key dates and instructions to participate in phases raffles and sales of tickets to the Games. The registered person can also choose to receive Rio 2016 news and stay informed about the events that will take place between now and 2016, such as test competitions (more on these competitions below) and the Olympic Torch Relay.

Rio starts test events to prepare for the 2016 Games

Competitions to be held throughout the year of 2015 and up until May 2016 will allow the organizers to test the operations and the athletes to try the installations. About 20 different sports will have competitions held in the Olympic facilities in Rio all over this year and up to May of next year.

In total, 45 test events will be held. They will be divided in three blocks:

- Open air sports: From July-October 2015
- Sports in closed venues: November 2015-February 2016
- The third block will be held from March-May 2016.

Some of those events will be organized by the Olympic Organizing Committee Rio-2016, through the competition series named "Aquece Rio", while others will be organized by International and/or Brazilian Sports Federations/Confederations.

Part of these events will be free, some paid and some others closed to the public.

Please see on the next page the tentative calendar, as of January 21st, 2015:
